Have you paid your poll tax?

Everybody gets graft but the farmer, whose free seed is to be cut off.

You have only to-day and Monday in which to pay your poll tax so you can vote in November.

A Pensylvania woman wants to run for sheriff. Her husband probably would like to see the sheriff run for her.

The Vesuvius eruption and the San Francisco earthquake have passed the sensation stage, but the gubernatorial contest in Georgia is running along on a red hot axle as usual.

"When is a woman old?" is now being discussed by experts. No woman is old till she gets so far along in life that she has no objection to stating her age.

Attention is called to the fact that another New York society girl has married a foreign Count. Of course, "The girl had money to buy her honey" and if the Count takes on the matrimonial yoke he will have to suffer the consequences.

Says the Baltimore Sun of Wednesday: "Taking it all in all, it is seldom one is able to attend such delightful obsequies as John Paul Jones (?) furnished yesterday at Annapolis." The Sun must not be convinced that the remains which Gen. Porter started out to find in Paris as Jones are not the remains of Jones (?)

The Columbia Evening Record has just celebrated the ninth anniversary of its existence. Few papers have made such progress as the Record and it has won success by losing no opportunity to constantly add to its outfit and news service as the public manifested its appreciation. Our esteemed contemporary is always going forward and it has gratified the Star to watch it grow. We always like to break the wrapper that brings The Record to this shop.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Norfolk Public Ledger, is coming to us as the Ledger-Dispatch, having consolidated with the Dispatch another Norfolk evening paper. The hyphenated paper is one of the South's best afternoon newspapers and not only is there the most complete news service but marked ability is displayed in the editorial department. Judging from its advertising patronage, the Ledger-Dispatch realizes what prosperity really is.

SLOW IN RIPENING

Shipments of Strawberries Continue Daily Less Than Fifty Refrigerator Cars

LITTLE COMPLAINT IS HEARD

Pittsburg on Strength of Higher Quotation Received Bulk of Consignments Yesterday—Transportation Rules at Chadbourn.

The movement of strawberries through South Rocky Mount yesterday amounted to only 31 car loads, showing a falling off from the day before. The distribution as officially reported by Business Agent Bauman from the junction office was Pittsburg, nine cars; Boston, eight cars, Buffalo, three; New York, two, and one each to Providence, Springfield, Hartford, Utica, Albany, Hornellsville North Adams and Montreal. The express shipments are reported to have been in the neighborhood of a thousand crates. The falling off in volume of shipments is believed to be due largely to the cold spell of early in the week. As late as Wednesday the fruit had not ripened sufficiently for growers to pick over their fields on that day. However, the weather yesterday was just the kind to mature and ripen the fruit in short order and there is expected to be a marked increase in the volume of the shipments by Monday, not only from the Chadbourn territory but all over the belt.

The prices thus far have been only fairly satisfactory. New York quoted 12 to 16 cents per quart Thursday; Philadelphia, 12 to 20 and Pittsburg, 15 1-2 to 22 cents. The latter quotation served to divert the largest shipments to that point yesterday.

Thus far very little complaint has come from the trucking belt as to the facilities offered for handling the crop. The rush at Chadbourn seems not to have been anticipated early enough by the telegraph people at that point and a congestion of messages was reported from there Tuesday but by this time a sufficient number of operators has been dispatched to that point and no further trouble is expected along this line.

In order to guard against yard troubles in a congestion of freight on the sidings, at Chadbourn a circular has been issued by the transportation people that all parties intending to load solid cars must place the order for cars 24 hours before the time the car is expected to move and providing a demurrage charge of $5 per day in case such car is not ready for movement after the time designated by the shipper. Some of the shippers are disposed to resist this seemingly arbitrary order, but many of them appreciate the fact that some such regulation is necessary to the protection of all the interests concerned.

MR. DAVID H. WALSH DEAD

Venerable Citizen of Wilmington Entered Into Rest Last Night—Funeral From Grace Church To-day

Mr. David H. Walsh, one of Wilmington's best known and most highly respected citizens, bookkeeper for the past ten or twelve years in the offices of Messrs. Paterson, Downing & Co., in this city, and a fine type of the old Southern gentleman, passed away last night at 11:20 o'clock at the home of his son, Mr. P. H. Walsh, No. 713 Princess street, after an illness of only a week with congestion of the liver. Mr. Walsh had been in feeble health for some time and had suffered a recent attack of la grippe. However, until 6 o'clock yesterday evening he was thought to be out of danger, therefore, his death came as a shock to family and friends.

Mr. Walsh was a native of Virginia and had reached the advanced age of 76 years. He came to Wilmington just after the war and reared a large family here, all of whom have been prominently identified with the business and industrial welfare of the city. For many years Mr. Walsh was a confidential bookkeeper in the Auditing Department of the Atlantic Coast Line but left that employment to enter the large naval store offices of Messrs. Paterson, Downing & Co. He was a fine accountant and his services will be missed by the firm with which he was last engaged. Personally he was genial, whole-souled and was a favorite with all in the circle of his acquaintance. His presence in the community will be missed by many.

Mr. Walsh is survived by six children, viz: Mr. P. H. Walsh, at whose home he died; Mr. H. G. Walsh, Mrs. J. D. Kelly, all of this city; Mr. Aubrey T. Walsh, of Newbern; Mr. D. H. Walsh, Jr., of Florence, S. C.; and Mrs. Harry Penton, of Mobile, Ala. He also leaves a large number of grandchildren. All the bereaved ones have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

The funeral will be conducted at 5 o'clock this afternon from Grace M. E. church and the interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

NEAT ADVERTISING DEVICE.

Miniature of the Huyler Factory at E. Warren & Son.

One of the most striking advertising devices seen in Wilmington in a long time is at the store of Messrs. E. Warren & Son, southwest corner of Front and Market streets. It is sent out by the manufacturers of the famous Huyler's candies, cocoas and chocolates and is a miniature in wood, a perfect likeness, of the immense factory of the company at Eighteenth street and Irving Place, New York city. The old factory of six stories is shown immediately on the corner, with the new ten-story annex immediately adjoining and still another ten-story additional factory, occupying the balance of the block. It is a bit of neat cabinet work and is a true likeness even to the advertising signs on the old factories and on the new construction work. One of these signs reads: "This ten-story fire-proof addition to Huyler's where Purity and Cleanliness Reigns Supreme Will Almost Double the Manufacturing Capacity for Their Delicious Bonbons, Chocolates and Cocoas, Known All Over the World."

Messrs. E. Warren & Son are to be congratulated as being one of the first twenty exclusive agents in the United States to receive one of these handsome advertising devices. By a clever contrivance the miniature is brilliantly lighted with electricity at night, proving it even more attractive than by day with its various transparencies, etc.

BOY SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Little Son of Mr. J. W. Flynn Run Over By Mule.

James Flynn, aged about 11 years, was run over and kicked by a mule Thursday afternoon. His father, Mr. J. W. Flynn, is in charge of the logging camp of W. T. Sears & Co., near Ashton, in Pender county, and the accident occurred there. At first it was thought the injuries would prove fatal, but he was brought to the James Walker Memorial Hospital in this city Thursday night and after an operation by the surgeons, it is thought that he will recover. He has a fracture of the skull over the left eye. Mr. Flynn, father of the boy, is in the city and will remain with his little son awaiting the result of the injuries. The accident occurred Thursday afternoon about 1 o'clock.

COMMITTEE COMING

Distinguished Visitors In Interest of Rivers and Harbors Here Next Week

THEIR VISIT SIGNIFICANT

Congressmen Small, Patterson and Delegation From House Will Visit Wilmington to Look Into Local Port Interests.

On Wednesday, May 2nd., which is Wednesday of the approaching week, Wilmington will enjoy the rare privilege and the distinction of having in its midst for a brief period Hon. John H. Small, father of the great inland water way project; Hon. G. B. Patterson, representative from this district, and several members of the Harbors and Rivers Commitee of Congress, who are coming to look into the interests and needs of this port as a special delegation from the National Rivers and Harbors Congress of the United States. Notice of the expected visit of these distinguished men was received yesterday by both letter and telegram from Congressman Small to President J .A. Taylor, of the Chamber of Commerce. The visit of the delegation means a great deal for the port and President Taylor has already set about to give these gentlemen a reception commensurate with the importance of their coming.

The National Rivers and Harbors Congress is composed of commercial organizations and individuals all over the country and has for its object the creation of a sentiment in favor of an annual appropriation of not less than fifty million dollars for the permanent and continuing improvement of all the navigable water courses in the land. It recently met in Washington and is already exercising a wide influence. Mr. James H. Chadbourn, being president of the Inland Water Ways Convention which met some time ago in Columbia, S. C., was chosen as vice president of the Congress from North Carolina and Maj. E. J. Hale, of Fayetteville, was elected one of the executive committee of fifteen.

The North Carolina Congressmen have interested their colleagues on the Rivers and Harbors Committee of the House in the improvements required in Wilmington to meet the constantly growing demands of commerce here, as strikingly brought out by Capt. R. P. Johnston, in charge of the U. S. Engineering Corps in this district, and they have induced the party to come to Wilmington, look over the harbor and river interests and be prepared at this or succeeding sessions of Congress to act intelligently upon any appropriation for the improvements here that may be proposed.

President Taylor has appointed as a committee to arrange for the reception of the distinguished visitors Messrs. James H. Chadbourn, James Sprunt and H. G. Smallbones, all interested in the improvement and development of the port, and it has also been arranged for the business men of the city to meet the delegation and hear them speak at a special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to be held Wednesday at noon. As the party comes direct from Washington and leaves on the evening train, there will be little time for entertainment, but it is the plan to take the visitors early in he afternoon for a trip a short way down the river and about the harbor. If the permission can be obtained and she is not otherwise engaged, the United States Revenue Cutter Seminole will probably be used for this trip. However, these are matters for later arrangement by the committee of entertainment and due announcement of the plans will be made as the date for the visit approaches. It is especially desired that there be a large and representative attendance of business men at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at noon. It is regarded as the opportunity of a life time to make a favorable impression upon members of a committee which has in its power the doing of much good or, by an adverse impression, of doing great harm to the port for years to come.

Wilmington extends a cordial welcome to the expected visitors and hopes that their brief stay on the historic lower Cape Fear may be both pleasant and mutually of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright Bereaved.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Wright will tenderly sympathize with them in the death of their infant daughter, Berlinda Alice, aged two years, which occurred at the family residence, No. 521 Dock street, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The little sufferer passed away after an illness with cholera infantum. The funeral will be conducted from the residence at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

WILMINGTON BAPTIST UNION

Three Days' Session Begun Yesterday at Atkinson, N. C., Will Continue Through Sunday.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Atkinson, N. C., April 27.—The churches composing the Wilmington Baptist Association convened in a Sunday School convention this morning with the Baptist church of Atkinson. The representation from the churches was very good, especially in view of the very busy season. The introductory sermon was preached at 11 A. M. by Rev. J. M. Bennett, the pastor, who recently came into the Association to serve Burgaw and other nearby churches. He preached from Matthew 21-28, "Go Work today in my Vineyard," theme "working for Jesus." He preached a very interesting sermon, showing the urgent need of more active, aggressive workers, and made a favorable impression on the congregation. At 2 P. M. the convention organized by electing Rev. Miles C. Walton, moderator, and Mr. Banks, clerk.

Three-minute reports were made from all the schools represented. The reports indicate fairly good work being done in most of the schools. D. J. Corbett, of Currie, made a specially interesting report of the Sunday School in Canetuck church over which Mr. Corbett gracefully presides as superintendent. His young people specially enjoy the social features of the school and not infrequently find each other's companionship congenial.

Several interesting talks were made on "The Importance of the Teachers' Meeting," by W. B. Rivenbark, D. J. Corbett, W. H. Davis and Dr. Hale.

The attendance of the pastors is large, all the pastors of the Association being present except two

The opening to-day has been excellent and the outlook is fine for an interesting session. The hospitality of the village is ideal, the people are doing all in their power to make everybody enjoy themselves to the utmost.

Among those present from Wilmington are Dr. Hale, Rev. W. H. Davis, Rev. J. A. McKaughan, Mr. D. L. Gore. Among those expected to-morrow are, the Rev. J. A. Smith, Mr. G. E. Leftwich, Messrs. T. T. Vann, Jas. P. Herring, C. S. Lewis, J. K. Bland, of Burgaw, and others. It is expected there will be about twenty present at the union from Wilmington.

The thirtieth annual meeting of the Bellevue Cemetery Company was held last night at the office of Secretary and Treasurer W. E. Yopp, on Princess street. All the reports showed an encouraging year's work and plans for the future were discussed with enthusiasm. All the old officers were re-elected as follows:

President—J. A. Everett.
Vice President—H. A. DeCover.
Sec. and Treas.—W. E. Yopp.
Superintendent—J. H. King.
Directors—G. W. Linder, H. A. DeCover, G. B. M. Hudson, G. W. Bornemann, J. Carmer Davis, Wm. Simpson and S. G. Hall.

A Grievance Committee was also appointed, composed of Messrs. S. G. Hall, G. B. M. Hudson and Wm. Simpson.

The improvements for the new year will consist of the building of several roadways and the taking—in and improvement of a number of new sections. The Bellevue Company is now in more flourishing condition than ever before and the outlook is bright. The number of interments is increasing each year and the value of the property is rapidly appreciating.

FUNERAL OF J. C. LORD.

Impressive Service From St. James' —Remains to Louisville.

The funeral of the late James C. Lord was conducted at 5:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Saint James' church, a large number of friends having been present to pay a last sad tribute of respect and esteem to one whom they had known so favorably in life. A brother of the deceased and a sister of the bereaved young wife had arrived during the day and were with the sorrowing ones at the funeral. The services were by Rev. R. W. Hogue, rector of the parish, and the attendance included fellow members of Mr. Lord in the Brotherhood of Saint James and the Fraternal Order of Eagles. Both sent very handsome floral designs.

The pall-bearers from the church to the station were Messrs. W. N. Harriss, Milton Calder, S. M. Boatwright, W. G. W. Krafft, L. Brown McKoy and Robert E. Tapp. The remains accompanied by members of the bereaved family were taken to Louisville, Ky., for interment.

RED MEN TO RALEIGH

Kindling of Great Council Fires on Wake Reservation Early Next Week

LOCAL TRIBES REPRESENTED

Officers and Delegates Will Attend From This City—Year of Great Prosperity For I. O. R. M. in North Carolina—Notes.

From all over North Carolina early next week representatives of all that was good and great in the character of the primitive Red Man will journey to the capital city at Raleigh, the occasion being the eighth annual kindling of the Great Council fires of the I. O. R. M., in the reservation of North Carolina. As usual upon such occasions the Wilmington tribes will be well represented and will take a prominent part in the deliberations of that body. Already the Big Chiefs from here and Southport are planning their trip and they confidently look forward to one of the best meetings held in the eight years history of the order in this State.

Of the Great Council officers from this city wil be Great Keeper of Wampum E. P. H. Strunck, Great Guard of the Wigwam Walter P. Gafford and Fred. K. J. Fuchs, of the Law Committee of the Great Council. In addition to these will be present Messrs. B. C. Bordeaux and J. R. Davis, representatives from Eyota Tribe, No. 5, and Messrs. James Wenberg and M. G. Silvia from Cherokee Tribe No. 9. Other members of the order in this city may also attend, so that the delegation from here will be the largest from any point in the State.

The Improved Order of Red Men, as a State organization, in North Carolina, is not quite eight years old, it having been instituted in Elizabeth City in June of 1898, but during its short existence it has forged to the front with rapid strides and the past year's work has assumed such magnitude as to be justly termed marvelous. During the year twenty new Tribes have been instituted and the net increase in membership has been upwards of 1,200. These results have been accomplished without any special effort along organization lines which is conclusive evidence that the principles and teachings of the order are readily accepted whever they are made known. The order is comparatively new in the Southland, but it enjoys the undisputed distinction of being the oldest fraternity of purely American origin now extant, and as such has enrolled under its motto of "Freedom, Friendship and Charity" upwards of 450,000 true, loyal and patriotic freemen of these United States.

CITY ATTRACTING ATTENTION.

Kindly References As to Wilmington From a Raleigh Paper.

The Raleigh News and Observer is kind enough to remark editorially:

"Keep your eye on Wilmington. Its people do not blow their horn as much as some cities, but it is going forward in every way. Yesterday it was stated that the Atlantic Coast Line system would spend $175,000 in better terminal facilities in Wilmington, and now it is stated that a six-story apartment house that will cost $75,000 will be built there. Raleigh is coming along, too. The Seaboard is spending $30,000 for better trackage and shifting facilities and a company is preparing to build a handsome apartment house here on Fayetteville street.

"Wilmington and Raleigh have not grown as rapidly as some maufacturing towns, and they are not gifted in blowing their horn, but they go forward steadily, solidly and permanently, and by every test of progress they show progress that is gratifying. Wilmington's location, now that its back country is the best trucking section of the United States, is certain to become a city of no mean proportions. And the State's Capital city is going to keep in the Procession of Progress."

Wilmington's Growing Commerce.

The always graceful Charlotte Chronicle says editorially: "Wilmington's harbor line is to be extended so as to reach deeper water. This is to be a vast undertaking and will add greatly to the shipping advantages of that port. Coincident with this news is the announcement that the Atlantic Coast Line has planned to invest $175,000 in the improvement of its terminal facilities there. These two works will mean much for the material progress of Wilmington, which has recently given evidence that it is going to double itself in size before long."

COST OF RAISING COTTON.

At the meeting of the National Cotton Spinners' Association in Boston on Wednesday, Mr. Eben C. Wiley, of Boston, read a paper on "The Cost of Raising Cotton." Among other things he said:

"Extraordinary conditions which developed during the seasons of 1903-04, which caused the price of cotton to advance, while it worked harm to the manufacturers, placed the cotton planter in an independent position, it also created a fictitious value, and it was only possible to maintain this high price on account of the necessity of many mills that had not bought sufficient cotton to supply their needs and were obliged to buy cotton in order to keep their organization together. The industry, therefore, was between two fires; the speculator and the jobber. The speculator knowing the necessity of the manufacturer, and the jobber in a position where he could afford to wait rather than pay the increased price for goods; and, if he did buy, it was only necessary to do so in small quantities and only in sufficient amounts to meet his immediate requirements. In a large measure this disorganized many large manufacturing plants, and brought about the necessity of curtailment or restricted output, and through this a loss of many skilled operatives. No sympathy whatever was shown the manufacturer, and it would seem to me that the encouragement given the speculator for quick returns in cotton futures and the advice given the farmers through their means, will be a dertiment both to the planters and industries alike during a term of years.

"While the Southern planter several years ago was satisfied to sell his cotton around eight cents, to-day he looks for a price of ten cents or above; yet it is not costing him in the same ratio to raise his cotton. And at the price, ten cents or more, the farmer is making more profit, without any trouble to himself or increased expenditure; while the manufacturer in order to spin this cotton may have over a million dollars invested in machinery and buildings, and besides looking after the cotton interests must at the same time take care of the depreciation of the machinery, pay dividends, follow carefully the sale of his product, including many other details which the farmer has no conception of, or those who influence the results alluded to.

"The suggestion made by our president at the semi-annual meeting at Atlantic City regarding the practicability of manufacturers combining and raising in part their own cotton, is worthy of careful consideration; and same led me to obtain from experienced planters the approximate cost to them for raising cotton. The figures vary, as would be expected, owing to the different ideas and methods; but for illustration the practical results are the same, and in each case, the planter admitted that if they could secure ten cents per pound for several years the South would be in such a strong financial position that they could dominate and hold cotton at this figure."

In the course of his paper Mr. Wiley submitted figures giving the cost of raising cotton, as furnished by cotton growers, designating the several planters by letters. His estimates allowed 1,400 pounds of seed cotton to produce 500 pounds of lint, which was agreed upon by all as being a fair proportion. His figures were based on one acre for comparison, and showed a cost per pound ranging from 2.85c to 5.28c.

Mr. Wiley is certainly in error in stating that it is not costing the planters in the same ratio to raise cotton, as compared with some years ago. The price of supplies and fertilizers has very largely increased, and not only has labor become scarce but is hard to get at much higher wages than when farmers were willing to sell cotton at 8 cents. So far as the cost of producing cotton per pound goes, we have never seen any two farmers who could arrive at an average. It depends on the method, the land, the seasons and the farmer. We are willing to guarantee that in the estimates furnished to Mr. Wiley not one of the planters he refers to counted the investment he has in the business—value of the land and interest on the same, taxes paid, repairs of implements and machines, cost of ginning and baling and the very considerable cost of taking the cotton to market. In all the estimates we have ever seen for producing cotton, strange to say, not a one of the items we mention was counted into the cost. Increase in land values must also be added to the cost of producing cotton and there are many expenses which are never made a note of. A Georgian writer recently furnished statistics which proved that even at the present price of cotton, the wheat grower and the corn grower realize a greater profit per acre than the cotton grower.

BETTER SAFE-GUARDS AGAINST FIRE.

It is well enough for Wilmington and every other community as well as the larger cities to heed the lessons taught by the great conflagrations that are liable to break out at any time from one cause or other. The probability that there will be a general increase in the rates for fire insurance, at least in congested districts in large cities, in consequence of the heavy loses in San Francisco, is calculated to impress anew upon the public mind and upon business men the importance of better safeguards against fire. Upon this line the New York Journal of Commerce says this, and it is timely and worth serious attention:

"It needs no argument to convince anyone that insurance rates must be determined by the risks to be incurred, and that these depend upon the safety of building construction in regard to liability to destruction by fire, and the provision made within buildings and without for preventing fires or extinguishing them when once started. The business of an insurance company cannot go on without profit upon the capital invested, or a margin of receipts over expenses and losses, and the chief source of receipts is the premium payments of the insured. Business of large companies is so widely extended that interests, in the matteris not confined to any one city or section, but is common to all. When a heavy loss occurs in one city, as in case of great fires like those that have been successively experienced in Portland, Chicago, Boston, Baltimore and San Francisco, it has to be shared by other to the extent that their risks are covered by the same companies. A city of safe buildings, adequate water system and efficient fire department cannot escape some part of the loss incurred where these safeguards are lacking, for it must pay the higher rates, occasioned by the average of risks.

"The economy of safety from fire is not an individual or local benefit merely, but is a general one. Insurance does not actually repair loss. It produces nothing and destruction of values is reparable only by new production. All that insurance does is to collect from capital already produced the wherewithal to distribute to the necessary points to replace capital destroyed. It adds nothing to the total and the loss is merely distributed back over the community called upon to contribute. Every fire loss is so much absolute destruction of value, and draws its equivalent from the body of insurers, depleting capital, adding to the cost of doing business and affecting prices and the cost of living for everybody. Cheap insurance is a general advantage, and it can only be secured by safeguards against fire, but the cost of these is a profitable investment, though the profit be concealed in saving instead of being revealed in gains."

Every new building erected for either a home or business should be planter in an independent position. It it against fire. Not the least important also is that people ought to be more cautious about fire, as somebody's carelessness may result in a terriffic loss to all the balance of the community.

"BRING THE PEOPLE HERE."

We quote the above heading from the Charlotte Chronicle and take from that esteemed contemporary the following editorial remarks on the subject:

"In recent years, with inconvenient railroad schedules and no efforts made to attract people, Charlotte has become a popular city for excursions. The excursion spirit should be fostered. Each excursion brings from 500 to 1,000 people to the city and these people spend money here. There should be some organized effort made to bring excursions to Charlotte every week during the coming Summer. The city now has the best passenger train service in its history. If the railroals could be induced to give week-end rates, the business of the town would be greatly benefited. A week-end ticket ought to be good from Friday afternoon to Monday afternoon. The time has heretofore been so limited, especially in the case of the Charlotte-Wilmington tickets, that comparatively few people have been moved to take advantage of it, preferring to pay regular fare and get all the time they desire. We want to bring people to Charlotte. The excursion and the cheap rate are the things to do it. The Greater Charlotte Club might tackle this matter to much advantage."

We take the above from the Chronicle to show the importance of having crowds of people to visit our cities. The same argument which the Chronicle uses as to excursions holds good as to Wilmington. The difference between Wilmington and Charlotte, however, is that Wilmington already has a large excursion business worked up by enterprises interested in getting crowds here. We, however, do not believe our citizens generally appreciate the benefit which they also get out of the excursion business. The fact that other cities are working for an excursion business, that Wilmington already has, shows how important they regard it. We have the attractions here in our seaside resorts and we get the excursions, but the point which we desire to emphasize is that we should show our appreciation of it by furnishing excursionists some comforts and attention while they are in our city. It is not nescessary to go into particulars about what those comforts should be but they should be provided and every excursionist should be informed where they can take a rest and spend the time comfortably while they are here. The matter is an important one, and either the citizens or city authorities should take some practical step in the matter. Let's show our appreciation of the value of the excursion business to Wilmington.

KEELEY CURE GREAT BLESSING

Victim of Liquor Tells How It Made New Man of Him—Greatest of Institutions.

The Keeley Institute, Greensboro, N. C.:

On the 30th day of May, 1900, after having spent several years of my live a victim of strong drink, I was taken by a friend to the Keeley Institute at Greensboro, for treatment. When I arrived at your Institute I was under the influence of whiskey, but after I had been there a few days the craving for strong drink left me, and never from that time until this has the thirst returned, and I am proud of having an opportunity of saying to the world that I believe the Keeley Institute one of the grandest institutions ever established. I can truly say that I believe the Keeley Treatment does even more than it claims to do; and I am sure that when one of your graduates goes back to drinking it is no fault of the Cure. After having completed the treatment I returned to my home and everything seemed changed. I was, indeed and in truth, a new man, both in feeling and appearance, and now have a good business and am enjoying the confidence of all. I would beg any poor unforunate brother who is addicted to whiskey to go as fast as he possibly can to the Keeley Institute at Greensboro, N. C., and be cured of this awful curse.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—The Greensboro Record estimates that in Guilford county there are at present over 2,000 poll taxes unpaid. Perhaps they are waiting until Monday. In the matter of paying taxes it seems to be human nature to hold off to the last day.—Charlotte Chronicle.

—"Hold on, Mr. Gorky; one little preliminary! Who is the lady who accompanies you? You will have to explain this sooner or later—Why not at once?"—Norfolk Landmark. "Is that the usual method for seeking an introduction to a lady?"—Blackstone (Va.) Courier.

—An Indiana "loan shark" who had collected $412 on an original loan of $30 was forced by a judge to disgorge all except the principal and a reasonable interest. At the hearing it appeared that the original note for $30 was still unpaid. As a high finance performance this rivals the insurance grafters.—Savannah News.

—Richard Pearson Hobson is the second and only other Spanish-American war "hero" who succeeded in breaking into office and he had to make two or three attempts before he was nominated for Congress. The only other one we recall is the "her of San Juan Hill"—the strenuous Roosevelt.—Columbia Record.

—The President has been altogether too smart about the San Francisco matter. It was in as bad form to have declined foreign contributions, voluntarily tendered, as it would have been to have solicited them. Besides, what business of his was it, anyhow? Now he proposes to divert the domestic contributions from the hands of the local, State and military authorities to those of the Red Cross Society. A President who is too smart is more apt to do the wrong thing than one who is not smart enough.—Charlotte Observer.

—Mr. J. E. Latham, of the cotton brokerage firm of J. E. Latham & Co., has spent four weeks on a trip through every cotton growing State in the South. He gives his views to The Industrial News, and this is what he says as to the acreage: "Farm operations in practically all districts are well advanced up to the present time, but it is too early to make an estimate of acreage because the weather for the next six weeks might considerably change the figures. Based on the outlook as I see it, and presuming a continuance of favorable conditions throughout the planting season, I believe an increase of 15 to 20 per cent., west of the Mississippi river, and 7 to 10 per cent. east thereof will not largely miss the result."—Charlotte Chronicle.

TWINKLINGS.

—Jack—How do you make light of your troubles so? Bob—Oh, as soon as I receive the bills I burn them.—San Francisco Bulletin.

—Tom—Why don't you get married? Dick—Why don't I? Huh! it isn't possible to live on love. Tom—I expect to. My love has half a million in her own right.—Philadelphia Press.

—"You say that Mr. Boodles is a musician?" "Yes," answered the man who makes puns. "What are his favorite instruments?" "The loot and the lyre."—Philadelphia Press.

—Mrs. Jawback—I'm sure I've suffered every misfortune a woman can. Mr. Jawback—Oh, no—you've never been a widow. Mrs. Jawback—I believe I said missfortune, didn't I?—Cleveland Leader.

—Reggy Frappe—"Yes, I met the chawming Miss Flasher when she was on her tour and she asked me for my picture, weally." Miss Tabasco—"Yes, I heard her say she was collecting pictures of all the curious objects she ran across in this country."—Chicago Daily News.

—"I think," declared the little daughter of the window to the millionaire, who was calling, "that you are a charming and delightful man." "How nice. What makes you think so?" "Mamma told me so."—Tit-Bits.

—"Shall I say that we need all these immigrants because of our growing industries?" asked the sociological writer. "Yes," replied the capitalist; "that sounds better than to say we need them because of our growing wages."—Washington Post.

—"You are taking a great deal of interest in this investigation." "Yes," answered the statesman. "I have to give it close personal attention. I want to make sure it doesn't develop anything I don't care to have known."—Washington Star.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—The Maxton Scottish Chief says work has been commenced on Maxton's $10,000 Presbyterian church.

—The Newbern Elks on Wednesday night at their meeting, in response to the call of Grand Exalted Ruler Brown, donated $300 to the emergency fund for stricken California.

—A project is on foot to build an electric car line from Roanoke Rapids to Weldon. Business men say the stock has all been taken and that it is now considered certain that the line will be constructed with a reasonable time.

—Mr. Caleb Thomas, of Murphy, who, while walking on the Southern found a broken rail and flagged the train, thus preventing a wreck, has been notified by the road that hereafter he and his wife, by applying to the superintendent of transportation, may travel of the line free.

—The new proprietor of the North Carolina Military Institute, at Red Springs, is Major Wilbur M. Jones, superintendent of Kirkwood Military Academy, Kirkwood, Miss. He has had twelve years experience as a teacher. It is expected that he will be on the ground early in June and begin preparations for the opening of the Academy in the Fall.

—The Mount Olive primary was held Thursday night. Mayor M. T. Breazeale was re-nominated as were also the present board of aldermen, composed of B. W. Southerland, C. B. Hatch, J. R. Bell, M. O. Summerlin and Dr. G. F. Herring. At the conclusion of the meeting a nice sum was raised for the San Francisco sufferers, which will be forwarded by Mayor Breazeale.

—Greensboro Telegram, April 25: In the United States court yesterday Judge Boyd appointed George R. Gaither and Buxton M. Ridgely receivers of the Montgomery Mining Company, of Montgomery county. The appointment was made upon application of Julian Leroy White who claims that the company owes his $7,669, of which amount over $5,550 is overdue, and that the company owns $40,000 of debts in addition to his claims.

—The remains of the original wooden building of the Red Springs Female Seminary, which has remained a year as the center building since the extension of the brick east wing, is being torn down now to be replaced with the brick structure provided for in the splendid plan by which the several sections of the great building has been going up from year to year as the money could be procured.

—Lumberton Robesonian, April 27: Mr. John Skelton Williams, president of the Raleigh and Charleston Railroad, Mr. C. T. Williams, his private secretary, and Captain V. C. McBee, receiver of the Carolina Northern R. R. Co., came in Wednesday morning on the Seaboard, and went down the R. & C. road on a special train. The Messrs. Williams returned in the afternoon and took the Seaboard train going west, but Captain McBee remained in Marion.

—Mount Olive special, April 26: The closing exercises of the Olive's Chapel High School on the afternoon and at night on Wednesday, were largely attended. A splendid programme was prepared by Prof. Holleman, principal and Misses Kelley and Upchurch his assistants, and was well carried out by the children. Dr. R. T. Vann, of Raleigh, delivered a most able and instructive address in the church at night. Mr. Percy J. Olive in response to an invitation from the trustees and faculty made a short and happy speech in the afternoon. He is a great favorite in that section and the people expressed themselves glad that he had announced himself a candidate for the State Senate. The term just closed has been one of the most prosperous the school has every known.

—Charlotte Chronicle: In a map issued by Mr. M. V. Richards, land and industrial agent of the Southern Railway Company and reproduced in The Progressive Farmer, it is seen that Robeson is the largest cotton producing county in North Carolina, with an annual crop of 37,832 bales. Edgecomb comes next with a crop of 31,692 bales. Mecklenburg is third with 30,079 bales: Johnston and Wayne have almost an equal production 29,444 bales for the former and 29,338 for the latter. Union raises 26,044; Cabarrus, 12,223; Gaston, 12,577; Cleveland, 20,250; Lincoln, 9,132 Iredell, 14,324; Catawba, the sweet potato county, 8,273. Cotton is raised as far west as Caldwell county which produced 6 bales in 1904. Forty-four bales were grown in Burke and 14 in Yadkin.

—Lumberton Robesonian: It seems that our new passenger station to be constructed by the Seaboard Air Line without the assistance of the Raleigh and Charleston. While perhaps both roads should join in its creation, yet, however, if it is built, the builders should not be allowed to forget that it should not be constructed for present needs alone. With the future which our town has before it, a depot in keeping with the business of the town and its future progress should be erected. we doubt if any other town on the second division of the Seaboard has, within the past five years, made greater progress than Lumberton and when it is considered that two large cotton mills are to be built almost immediately, and that other enterprises and improvements are under way, and that all of them will tend to greatly increase our already large passenger business, it would seem that the railroads would stand not only in the way of the development of the town, but also in their own light, if they fail to furnish a station which will be adequate to meet the needs which are even now almost present ones.

—Lumberton Robesonian, April 27: William Gray, a guard of the county convict force, met an instant and horrible death at the Cottingham Lumber Mills, near Allenton, Thursday morning. He had taken a seat upon the coupling rod of the log train, before the engine was started, and when it was started the rod was made taut, causing him to lose his balance. He was thrown on the track and a moment later the cars passed over him, causing death at once. No blame for the accident is attached to either the county or Cottingham Lumber Company. The deceased lived in Lumberton and is survived by a widow and one daughter.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS.

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles—A Wilmington Citizen Shows How to Cure Them.

Many people never suspect their kidneys, if suffering from a lame, weak or aching back, they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they lead to diabetes or Bright's disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Kidney Pills. It cures all ills which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Wilmington people testify to permanent cures.

E Poezolt, merchant tailor of Eight South Front street, residing at 315 North Sixth street, says: "My wife used Doan's Kidney Pills and in her case they proved to be an effective remedy. She suffered with her ankles and could scarcely get down stairs in the morning. We thought it was rheumatism, and her ankles would be all pulled up every morning so she could hardly hobble around. Since obtaining Doan's Kidney Pills at R. R. Belamy's drug store and taking them she seems like another person. She is better in the morning, the swelling left her ankle and from the great relief she obtained we are only too glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to others."

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Biology has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality; causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

The Pierce Amusement Co., which will furnish the attractions at the Juniors' Big Gala Celebration, commencing here Monday, May 7th, has been receiving the heartiest endorsements by both the press and public in this section of the country. This is the first season that the Pierce's Big shows have every played more than two stands after his opening engagement in the Carolinas, but this season, in response to many requests, the management decided to extend their tour into Eastern North Carolina. Mr. Pierce's decision has proven to be a wise one for his attractions have been most favorably received. In this show alone Mr. Pierce has invested a small fortune. The Juniors promise during the Gala week here, everything to please and nothing to offend or shock the feelings of the most refined. Plenty of clean and wholesome shows and four big free acts, together with band concerts hourly by a most excellent band concert.

Mail From San Francisco.

The first mail to reach the local postoffice from San Francisco since the great earthquake shock Wednesday a week ago, arrived last night and consisted of three letters from loved ones for whom anxiety was felt before telegraphic assurances were received a few days later that they were all right. The letters bore no stamps, for Uncle Sam was considerate in times like those, and the postmark bore the date of 2 P. M., 22nd, two days after the disaster. It is needless to say the letters brought welcome news to the relatives in this city.

House Girl Stole Jewelry.

Mabel Hayes, a 13-year-old colored girl, recently employed as a domestic at the home of Mr. Roger Moore, was arrested yesterday morning by Constable Savage charged with the larceny of jewelry and other household articles to the value of about $100 from her late employer. The girl confessed to have taken a part of the property and is held in jail with the hope that the remainder of it may be recovered. She will be given preliminary trial before Justice Furlong to-day or to-morrow.

Elks Were Indignant.

A special from Columbia, S. C., says: "An incident which occurred in one of the leading hotels here to-day when a traveling Elk gave in his ultimatum at the office that he would leave the hotel unless the porter wearing an Elk button was either discharged or compelled to take off the button, has stirred up interest among the local and visiting Elks in legislation preventing negroes wearing Elk buttons. The negro was made to take off the button."

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Currie, N. C., April 27.—Upon the occasion of commencement of the Currie High School Thursday, the 26th inst., the people of this community were the recipients of an unusual treat in the beautifully carried out entertainment that was eloquent in its evidence of the higher purposes of the patrons and of an advancement in the pupils that was so phenomenal as to be not only gratifying but astonishing. The patrons of this school are due Prof. C. H. Weatherly their genuine thanks for what seems to have been untiring efforts, and the determination on the part of each of the students to excel that had never before been so apparent and must have emanated from his own personality and are themselves to be congratulated upon the conception of these nobler and higher ideals for their children.

The prizes in the declamation contest were awarded to Master Kyle Walker and Miss Janie Styron. The complimentary speakers were Dr. Geo. F. Lucas, A. C. Moore, R. F. Brooks and Hon. J. F. Moore.

Don't Trifle With the Court.

Carrie Stewart, a colored woman of unenviable court record, got funny in a trial before Justice Bornemann yesterday and was indulging in all kind of pleasantries at the expense of his honor. The "judge," however, is not an executive to be trifled with and he promptly landed the Stewart woman in jail. She was charged with slapping a boy and until her sister came to her relief with $3.60 costs, she languished in durance vile. The "judge" admonished her next time she wanted to get funny to join a minstrel show and she promised that she would.

GREAT PARADE OF CONFEDERATES

Reunion of Civil War Veterans at New Orleans Comes to Glorious Close

OLD SOLDIERS ON MARCH

Crowds Wildly Cheered Them as They Went on Parade of Two Miles—Ovation for Generals Lee, Cabell and Evans.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New Orleans, April 27.—For two days the Confederate re-union has devoted itself to business, but to-day was given over to the grorification of the cause that died long since, but still lives on.

To-day's great pararde in honor of the Confederacy was set in motion by a singnal gun from the cruiser Columbia. The day was ideal in all respects for the event.

The hour set for the formation was 11 o'clock, and the time for the movement of the column 30 minutes later. The line of march was from Canal street along St. Charles to the Lee Circle, three fourth of a mile away, around the circle and back to Canal street, upon Camp street which is but one block from St. Charles street. The utmost distance marched by any organization was a little over two miles.

An escort of mounted police came first and then Major General Albert Estopinal, the chief marshal of the parade, with a glittering staff in gray and gold. After this clattering group of horsemen came General Stephen D. Lee, the commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, and the members of his staff. The ladies of the Confederated Southern Memorial Association and the Daughters of the Confederacy in carriages were next. The old soldiers were next in line, the trans-Mississippi Department, under General W. L. Cabell having the right of the line and followed by the Tennessee Department under General Clement A. Evans and the Army of Northern Virginia, under General C. Irving Walker.

The old soldiers were, as a matter of course, the chief object of interest to the crowds that lined the streets, and their welcome was most hearty and affectionate. They repaid their greeting in kind as they strolled along yelling and waving their hats.

General Lee, mounted upon a superb gray horse, was an especial object of admiration, and merely as a picture he deserved all that he received. His great popularity added to his handsome appearance, produced a continuous chorus of cheers as he rode along, hat in hand.

General Cabell rode with an old soldier holding his bridle, for the general's hands are none too strong these days and it is not certain he could restrain a fractious horse for any great length of time. He was the recipient of much attention throughout the parade.

Adjutant General Mickle, who rode a bay horse, fair to look upon and difficult to sit upon, proved himself a most accomplished horseman and early in the day while riding along Canal street, was compelled to throw himself from the saddle to prevent his horse from falling over on him.

General Clement A. Evans, of Georgia, who is the mildest of men in ordinary life, looked the picture of the fighting man he really is, as he swung his spirited horse from side to side. General Evans was cheered most heartily as he rode along.

Of the veterans the Tennessee contingent evoked perhaps the most applause, for the reason that several camps carried muskets and wore uniforms of faded Confederate gray.

Several battle flags that had seen service in the Civil War were carried in the parade and all of them were objects of pride and regard by the crowd.

The marines from the United States cruiser Columbia and the National Guard of Louisiana closed the parade. The marines especially were wildly applauded, their excellent marching and showy white uniforms catching the fancy of the crowd. At Lee Circle where the parade turned to retrace its steps toward Canal street an enormous Confederate flag was formed by grouping hundreds of school children. The youngsters and the veterans mutually cheered themselves hoarse as old soldiers passed by.

AMERICAN ATHLETES HISSED.

Greeks in Bad Humor Because Yankees are Successful.

By Cable to The Morning Star.

Athens, Greece, April 27.—The continued success of the American athletes in the Olympic games is causing some ill-feeling among the Greeks, although on the whole an excellent temper has been displayed by the competitors and spectators. A few of the latter, however, have not been able to conceal their feelings and some hisses were heard to-day.

This was a busy day. The expectation that the aquatic events would be concluded was not realized, owing to a wind springing up at noon, which made the sea choppy and many of the events had to be postponed. The Americans again figured prominently in the day's results.

Easter Trade.

We want to thank the generous public for their liberal patronage through the Easter week.

Our business is even a surprise to us. Last year we did very, very well and we thought then it would be a hard matter to break that record, but looking over and figuring up the sales the year past, 1905, and coming it with the Easter week of 1906, we find we are 33 1-3 per cent. better which is a most remarkable increase. We have tried hard to please the many customers we have had and I want to say that if we have caused any one any uneasiness or delay in getting their goods, it is not our fault. It was simply our inability to secure sufficient good help to do the work in the given space of time.

You remember, we trim hats free, work ten milliners with work piled on each side of each one of them, all free to our customers.

To buy your hats from Gaylord is a saving to you.

We sell you the material cheaper than others and trim your hats for nothing. If our work room is not large enough, we can tear down the waisl and build it larger. We want r busines for Monday morning. We wil have a quantity of new hats, new ribbons, new owers and a full line of colors in malines and chiffons.

Those who have not gotten their hats for 7aster can be suited to-day, even better than last week. You will have more time to make your selection and we feel positively sure we can please you.

Men's and Boys' Clothing: We have placed on sale to-day the greatest selection of Boys' washable clothing from 2 to 10 years old, probably ever shown in the city.

SERIOUS QUAKES IN UNITED STATES

Famous Earthquake in Missouri When Large Area Sank and Became Lake—Charleston Calamity.

The New Orleans Picayune in an interesting review of the San Francisco calamity has the following to say with reference to seismic disturbances in the United States:

"The first serious earthquake known in the United States was at New Madrid, Mo., near where that State and Arkansas and Tennessee approach each other. In 1811 there was an extensive disturbance and sinking of a large extent of country, which was then but sparsely settled. It occurred without loss of life, but square miles of solid land were converted into lakes, in which today, down in their clear depths, the trees, standing as they were before the country sank, may be seen.—(Reelfoot Lake in West Tennessee is here referred to.)

"On Aug. 31, 1886, a very serious earthquake occurred at Charleston, S. C., wrecking much of the city and destroying the lives of ninety-six persons. It was felt through Florida, Georgia and the Carolinas and up in Virginia.

"California had previously experienced shocks which, while not serious in their consequences, caused more or less apprehension. It was shown that in the mountain range of the Sierras there are several extinct volcanoes, but while the geologists found earthquake indications, the earlier tremblings of the earth were forgotten or disregarded, and the people who avoided constructing lofty buildings had begun to follow the fashion set by Chicago and New York.

"On yesterday the danger of such construction was fully demonstrated. In what may be considered the earthquake section of the city all the lofty houses were wrecked with destruction of many lives. But the terror inspired by the earthquake, whose shocks surprised most of the people in their houses and even in bed, was still filling every bosom when the frightful destructive agency of fire was added. The ruined buildings took fire, and although the firemen rallied nobly to the emergency, it was found that not only was much of their apparatus crushed or otherwise disabled, but, worst of all, the water mains laid under the streets had become dislocated and broken by the earthquake, so that the water was escaping into many yawning chasms that had been opened in the ground, and was wholly cut off from the ruined portion of the city.

Thus it was that the conflagration has continued to rage unchecked, and although efforts were made to limit its ravages by blowing up houses with dynamite, it appears that this expedient has been but partially successful, and the destruction by fire threatens to equal that caused by any great conflagration of modern times.

Naturally every body wants to know the causes of earthquakes, and the people everywhere are inquiring if the locality in which they live is liable to such a visitation. Nobody knows with any certainty the cause of these terrible convulsions of our globe. All is speculation. There may be several causes operating in different ways in different districts. The main theory is that the interior of our globe is very hot. Possibly subterranean water finds its way into those heated depths and is converted into steam, which disturbs violently that part of our earth above the explosion. Volcanoes, which are chimneys providing an escape for internal gases, sometimes get choked up, and their efforts to gain relief produce earthquakes. A violent shock communicated to a rocky stratum will be felt at every place to which that rocky formation extends, even if it be thousands of miles. Some earthquakes are attributed to the cooling and shrinking of interior stratification, forcing some of the rocks upward, while others are thrust downward.

But while these theories are scarcely satisfactory, it can be said with confidence that earthquakes only occur where extensive rocky formations are found near the surface and upon which towns and cities are built. Any violent disturbance to this rocky floor or platform is sure to be felt more or less throughout its extent. We in southern Louisiana have no rocky floor. For thousands of feet downward there is no solid or continuous rocky formation. Our city is built upon a vast mass of sand and clay, which is incapable of receiving and communicating serious shocks of any sort.

"It is, therefore, absolutely improbable that any subterranean disturbance could give us any calamitous trouble. Our low situation as regards the sea might make the Gulf coast liable to be overwhelmed by a tidal wave, but since we cannot be guaranteed against all misfortunes, we will have to accept that as a possibility. Only the islands along the coast like Galveston and Lost Island could be the scene of any serious disaster. At Galveston the people have built a wall against the sea and are raising their city, while the other islands are but sparsely populated, if at all.

THE COTTON MARKETS.

New York, April 27.—The cotton market was very nervous and irregular during today's session. The close was two points higher to 6 points lower. Sales were estimated at 300,000 bales.

The market opened steady at an advance of 3 to 5 points in response to higher cables. Trading was quite active at first and the market acted very nervous owing to the circulation of May notices which were issued to the extent of about 60,000 bales. Their progress through the street was attended by scattering liquidation of May through commission houses, but the bull leader had brokers buying May around the ring and before midday it became evident that the cotton was all being taken care of. This was followed by a slight improvement in prices which was also promoted by reports of a good spot demand from New Orleans, but after showing a net advance of about 5 to 8 points, the market weakened sharply owing to the break in the stock market and selling by Wall street longs. The decline carried prices about 15 to 19 points below the high point of the morning and to a net loss of 8 to 10 points on the active mnths. Toward the close profit-taking by shorts caused partial recovery from the lowest but the undertone continued very unsettled. May closed net unchanged.

Estimated receipts at the ports today were 15,137 bales against 17,890 last week and 24,498 last year. For the week estimated 85,000 bales against 97,569 last week and 161,977 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 4,971 bales against 3,543 last year, and at Houston 2,312 bales against 3,574 last year.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, April 27.—Drygoods market to-day held steady and firm. Sales about 2,000 bales of light weight sheetings for China account and of about 500 bales of yard goods for Red Sea accounts were made. Advances were reported in some lines of fine cambrics and a better trade was reported in bleached and printed goods.

Fall River, Mass., April 27.—The weekly sales in the printcloth market are estimated at about 125,000 pieces. Although the total sales show but a fair amount of trading there is a more hardening tendency to the market than that which prevailed a week ago. The recent decline in the cotton market has not affected prices for the finished goods adversely, but on the contrary, a firmer tone is in evilence.

The gain in new building and industry in North Carolina is greater than at any period in the State's history.. The North Carolina Home Insurance Company, of Raleigh, N. C., should receive its proposition of this prosperity as compared with the percentage of new business given to it in periods of less industrial activity. Give it the insurange on the desirable new properties you have to offer. It will help to build up our home State and continue the great era of prosperity now enjoyed by our people.

THREE SHOCKS OF EARTHQUAKE

Salmas Shaken and the River Sunk From Ten To Twelve Feet

BIG SHAKE SEVERE THERE

Situation at San Francisco Satisfactory—Harmony Among Managers of Affairs—Red Cross Supplies Stolen— Relic Hunters.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

San Francisco, April 27.—Harmony and pledges of good feeling marked the meetings today of the various bodies of citizens' committees and representatives of the army which are administering the affairs of San Francisco.

The last sign of confusion and misunderstanding which at times existed, disappeared that the first signs of the return to former conditions were the resumption of street car traffic in certain streets and the taking out of first permit for the erection of a modern steel structure on the ground occupied a few days ago by a less substantial building.

A cold rain fell for several hours last night and today and brought additional hardships upon the people sheltered only by tents and temporary buildings in the parks. To further add to their discomfort the wind blew a gale from the North all day, scattering dust and ashes everywhere, in some places throwing down the tottering walls of burned buildings. Tonight is one of the most uncomfortable since the great fire and the lack of heat in the tents of the homeless, as well as in the houses of the more fortunate brings extreme discomfort.

Red Cross Supplies Stolen.

The alleged systematic theft of several tons of Red Cross supplies has been disclosed by the arrest of Arthur Jacobs yesterday by Police Commissioner O'Grady and Detective Mathewson. Jacobs is said to have made a confession implicating several confederates and revealed the place where he had hidden the loot. Jacobs is a teamster who volunteered his services to haul supplies from the water front to the various relief depots.

Foreign Consuls Safe.

The French, Italian and Danish consuls at San Francisco who were reported as among the missing have all been heard from. They had temporarily become separated from their friends.

The Relief Fund.

Chairman Phelan, of the finance committee of the relief and Red Cross funds, gave out today a complete statement of money contributions received for the relief of San Francisco up to and including April 26. The list shows the grand total of $4,931,030, of which $213,950 was contributed locally.

Heavy Shocks at Salinas.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 27.—A long distance telephone message to this city from a correspondent of the Associated Press at Salinas, 120 miles south of San Francisco, at 10:30 o'clock this morning states that three more very heavy earthquake shocks were felt there last night, one at 8 o'clock, another at 9:50 and the last at 2 o'clock this morning. The shocks last about four seconds each, but so far as known did no damage.

The news could not be reported from Salinas earlier because of the lack of all communication. The damage at Salinas from the earthquake shock of last week is in excess of one million dollars.

The Salinas river is reported to have sunk ten or twelve feet along its course for miles. Nearly all of the bridges across the river have been condemned and will have to be rebuilt.

A later telephone message today received by the Evening Express, says that earthquake shocks have been felt there daily since the first disaster April 18, but that no further damage was done.

The Burned Area.

A trifle less than four square miles was burned over by the fire that followed the earthquake of April 18th, according to City Engineer Woodward, who to-day completed an official may of the burned area. There have been various statements as to the area of the burned quarter of the city, some estimates making the extent of the fire 15 square miles. Carefully figured out from official measurements and maps, the burned area is a small fraction less than four spuare miles, or about 2,500 acres.

Wind Blows Down Walls.

A strong wind that blew over the city yesterday afternoon and this morning, carried to the ground a number of crumbling walls that had been partly disintegrated by the fire. The falling of these walls was a danger to the great number of people who crowded into the city to view the ruins. The walls of a building at Stockton and Sutter streets, fell with a terrible crash. A number of predestrians and a party of men and women in an automobile had difficulty in getting out of the way of the shower of bricks. The outer wall of a building at Market and Geary streets where was once the Richelieu saloon, fell outward just as hundreds of people from the Oakland ferry boat were winding their way along Market stret. Sevesal persons were struck by bricks, but no one was seriously injured.

Relic hunters are reaping a harvest by digginz among the ruins of the Japanese and Chinese bazaars. Hundreds of persons have visited these ruins where assiduous stirring of ashes yielded profits that are more than worth the labor. Vases of satsuma and Cloisonne ware, brasses and bronz ornaments that in the days before the fire commanded high prices are carried away by relic hunters in large numbers. "Six shooters" of the kind formerly carried by hired assassins of the Chinese quarters, are found in great quantity.

COAL OPERATORS STANDING FIRM

Again Reject Proposition of Miners—It Would Increase Cost of Coal Thirty-five Cents Ton.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, April 27.—The anthracite mine operators through their sub-committee of seven, at a meeting here today, drew up a reply to the latest proposition of the mine workers for an adjustment of the existing differences in the anthracite fields, in which they refuse to modify their position heretofore announced. The operators call upon the miners to renew for a perior of three years the award of the anthracite strike commission or else to accept the operators' propsition that the strike commission arbitrate the question as to what changes, if any, shall be made in the scale of wages fixed by the commission in its original award. The miners have heretofore declined this offer.

The operators deny that wages are unduly low in the anthracite industry and say that to accept the sliding scale of wages proposed by the miners would mean an increase in the price of coal to the house of thirty-five cent a ton. The present profit to the operators, they say, is but twenty cents a ton. The letter continues:

"But if we disregard the sliding scale and assume that you simply mean to add ten cents per ton as the final increase in cost, this would result in increasing the wages of our employes $6,100,000 per annum; that is, ten cents per ton on 61,000,000 of output."

The operators say they cannot afford to pay this additional sum without imposing additional burdens on the coal consuming public and increasing the aggregate cost to the public of the entire product $12,000,000.

POLITICAL TALK IN THE HOUSE

Leader Williams States the Democratic Position To Be Tariff For Revenue.

MADE IT WARM FOR BOUTELL

Mississipi Member Defied Justification By Republicans of Selling American Manufactures Cheaper in Europe Than Here.

By Wire to the Morning Star.

Washington, April 27.—The tariff debate which was precipitated upon the House yesterday through the speeches of Mr. Boutell, of Illinois, and Mr. Hepburn, of Iowa, was further continued to-day by Mr. Williams, of Mississippi, the minority leader, who early in the day arranged to reply to taem. For two hours Mr. Williams stood the fire of the Republicans, holding the attention of the members throughout his presentation of the Democratic doctrine of tariff for revenue only. Without concluding, owing to his physical condition, Mr. Williams will finish his address to-morrow.

The House passed an emergency appropriation bill carrying $170,000 for the benefit of sufferers at San Francisco, and the employment of laborers at Mare Island navy yard. During the 315 pension bills were passed.

In the course of Mr. Williams speech, he asserted that the Republicans could not get away from the proposition that American-made goods were sold cheaper in Europe than in this country, and it could never be justified no matter how specious the reasoning. Mr. Williams having said he was a cotton planter, Mr. Boutell asked him if there was any difference in the selling price of cotton between the port of entry and Manchester, England.

"Oh, yes," he replied, "but I don't get any benefit out of it," which brought a round of applause from the Democratic side.

Mr. Boutell then asked if it was not true that cotton manufactured in the United States was sent abroad and then dyed and re-imported.

"Oh, yes, said Mr. Williams.

"Then, would the gentleman be willing to admit free of duty tnese European dyed cottons?"

"Certainly not," he replied, because he was in favor of levying a revenue tariff on these as on everything else.

Mr. Boutell then called attention to an "infant" that had appeared in the Ways and Means Committee providing for the levying of an import duty on gyptian and other long staple cotton imported into the United States from foreign counties.

Mr. Williams said it was not a Democratic measure and he would be everlastingly opposed to it.

Mr. Boutell said it had been introduced by a well known Democrat, Mr. Clark, of Florida, which was met with rounds of applause from the Republican side of the chamber.

This brought Mr. Clark to his feet with an explanation. "I introduced the bill," he said, "to levy a duty on Egyptian and other long staple cottons because I am in favor of a tariff to pay the expenses of the government, but I think the duties ought to be levied mainly upon the luxuries and in such manner as to benefit the farmers and other producers as well as the manufacturers," a statement that was applauded to the echo by the Republicans.

The House adjourned until to-morrow.

The Senate.

Washington, April 27.—In concluding to-day his two day's speech on the railroad rate bill, Mr. Spooner took cognizance of the charge of misquotation against himself which he said had been made in connection with Mr. Bailey's speech, though not in the speech, and quoted at length from his previous remarks to show that the criticism had been without foundation. Mr. Bailey disavowed any intention to reflect upon the Wisconsin Senator either in his public address or in private conversation, but said that privately he had expressed the opinion that Mr. Spooner had not made personal examinations of the authorities cited by him.

Mr. Spooner spoke for two hours, again devoting his attention largely to Mr. Bailey's non-suspension amendment to the rate bill.

There was more discussion of the necessity of fixing a day for a vote on the rate bill, and Mr. Tillman gave notice that after next Monday he would insist that the Senate shall proceed to vote if Senators are no prepared to speak.

All the private pension bills on the calendar were passed during the day.

The Senate adjourned until to-morrow.

AGENT STROHBAR RELEASED.

Governor of Georgia Refuses Requisition of Governor of Florida.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Atlanta, Ga., April 27.—Governor Terrell to-day denied the requisition of Governor Broward, of Florida, for J. N. Strohbar, who is wanted in that State on the charge of larceny after trust. It is alleged that Strohbar appropriated more than $10,000 of the Atlantic Coast Line's money while agent of the company at Gainesville, Fla. Strohbar was released from custody to-day.

MRS STANDIFER WAS ACQUITTED

Plea of Atlanta Woman who Killed Her Sister Was Emotional Insanity—Jealous About Husband.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Atlanta, a., April 27.—The trial of Mrs. E. M. Standifer for the murder of her sister, Miss Chapelle Wisenant, March 9th, last, which was begun early to-day, was concluded early this evening by the jury. Mrs. Standifer entered a plea of not guilty and while admitting the killing, her counsel declared that emotional insanity impelled her to the deed.

Mrs. Standifer shot and killed her sister nearly two months ago, on account of the marked attentions of her hnsband to the dead woman. Her suspicions had been confirmed by the discovery of letters that had passed between the two. Asking her sister to discontinue encouraging Mr. Standifer and being refused any promise of reform she fired a bullet which brought almost instant death.

Standifer was arrested subsequently on the charge of disorderly conduct and when his trial was called, he failed to appear and his bond was forfeited. His whereabouts are unknown.

YOU FIND THE GIRL. WE'LL FURNISH THE HOME."

B 100

The first thing necessary for the man contemplating marriage is a willing girl. He has to do his own wooing—we can't help him there. But after she has whispered "Yes"—(Why do they always "whisper" instead of shouting?) and the affair is all settled, then comes the important question of furnishing a home for the happy pair.
And that is where our help is needed. Whether they have their their love lit eyes upon a small flat or a large mansion, we can furnish it for them quickly elegantly, cosily and economically—or otherwise—according to their desires and the elasticity of the pocket-book.
